

Notes on Walk 12th January 2019

The walk started from Canary Wharf Tube Station. We headed north and crossed the footbridge over North Dock for a brief visit to the Museum of London in Docklands. We retraced our steps over the footbridge, crossed South Dock, went alongside Millwall Inner and Outer Docks before reaching Mudchute Park and Farm, where we saw the animals. We continued to Island Gardens via Millwall Park before taking the Greenwich Foot Tunnel beneath the river to the Cutty Sark in Greenwich for lunch.

After lunch we followed the Thames Path to North Greenwich with O2 and the Millennium Village. We took the Emirates Airline Cable Car across the river admiring some excellent views. We were able to visit the exhibition and café at the Crystal at the end of the walk.

A total of 52 people took part.

Thanks to Duncan Anderson for arranging the walk and providing an interesting commentary.
